The Covid pandemic	17
Supply chain problems	12
Corporate greed	15
The war in Ukraine	9
President Biden's economic policies	36
Former President Trump's economic policies	7
Low unemployment and a tight job market	4

Q16. When it comes to the causes of inflation and higher prices, which statement do you agree with more? (n=1000)

The U.S. economy is strong. Businesses are hiring workers, they're producing more products, and corporate profits are at record levels. The only reason we're facing inflation is that big corporations are taking advantage of the moment to raise prices. U.S. inflation is about corporate greed, not about supply chains, Covid, or war in Ukraine. 31

The U.S. economy looks strong, but it's actually weak. The reality is that the Covid pandemic and now the war in Ukraine broke supply chains, slowed shipping, and delayed delivery of parts and products across the economy. Prices and inflation in the U.S. are going up because of supply chain shortages and high demand. 69

Q17. Thinking about what you just read, which of the following do you think is MOST responsible for rising prices and inflation in the US? (n=1000)

Q36. Below are two statements about the U.S. Constitution. Which one is closest to your view? (n=1000) DO NOT ROTATE

Strict Constructionists say that the U.S. Constitution should be interpreted based on the Founders' thinking and original intent at the time they wrote the Constitution in 1789. For Strict Constructionists, constitutional interpretation must be based on the precise words in the constitution and the historical record from that time period.	34
--	----

Other scholars point out that the first thing our Founders did was change the Constitution by adopting the Bill of Rights that gives us the right to free speech, the right to bear arms, among other cherished rights. From the beginning, the Founders believed that the Constitution would have to be amended and adapted to meet the needs of a changing world. The U.S. Constitution has been a living document since the Founders' time.	66
